This occurred at a point about three niches from the Nio The British were compelled to sustain a heavy fire for some imme. Farly in the engagement Stewart received a severe wound, and Sir Charles Wilson thereupon assumed command. Works were hastily constructed under the leaden rain which continued to pour upon them from the enumeer rifles. The wounder min and baggage trum were left under guard behind the quickly built earthworks, while the rest of the force advanced, in the face of a hes tile fire, to a gravel ridge some distance in front Here a large force of rebels had established themselves in strong position. As soon as the British line rame near, a fiere charge was made signant it by the rebel foemen.

THE BATTLE.

The British troops were arranged as usual in the form of a square, and sleadily advanced to meet the wild onset of the loudly cheering or emy, who were rushing down upon them. At the same time the rifles of the British were doing bloody execution. The charge was checked, and not an Arab came within thurty pards of the British square. The rehels did not long stand before the murderous English fire, but were repulsed with heavy loss.

I we enurs and 250 men were left dond upon the field, and large numbers were wounded About the English hosses few details have yet been received. It is known, however, that Cameron, special correspondent of the London Davily Standard, and Herbert, special correspondent for the Morning Post, were killed.

The place where the battle occurred was a slight distance beyond the Shebacatt wells. Stewart's wound, while not fatal, is so serious that he will be disabled for the remainder of the present campaign. General Wolseley considers the deprivation of his services a national loss. He characterizes Stewart as the ablest soldier and most desking commander he ever long, and recommends him to the queen's most favorable consideration. The Secand of the artillery, was among the British kiain.

THE SCENA OF THE BATTLE

Where the battle of the 19th occurred is in the desart, about five miles from Metemmeh. When teeneral Stewart reached that point he found the enemy hovering about bas little army on all sides, and skirting if offen within uncomfortably short range. The rebels had evidently stalloned themselves in the vicinity to await bis arrival and give him battle. When they began to surround him and press in upon him he determined to albide the event. He ordered his men to dismount and form a zareeba. This was made mainly with saddles and baggage, and during its construction rebel riflemen drew nearer and maintained a hot fire from behind ambushes and such hiding places as they could find aminong the bushes and high grass. This fire was very well directed and was most disastrous in its effect upon the British troops. Twelve men were soon shot dead, and furty others wounded

Among the first killed were Mr. Cameron, special correspondent of the London Fost. General Stewart was one of the very first to be wounded He was shot in the high. When he was shot the work of making the zaresba was about completed, and the army had been put in motion to form its battle army this was a hollow square As soon as completed the square advanced, under a steady ambush fire, a delance of two miles. At this point the enemy began to move upon the square in two NOMINATIONS.

BEFULSED WITH GHEAT LOSS.

During the rebel charge, the English troops forming the sealed front delivered a terrific fire, aimed right at the enemy's middle, mowing down men in such heaps that they formed actual obstacles, and interfered so seriously with the evenness of the advance necessary to the success of the onslaught that its center line was brought to a standstill, about sixty yards from the British front line. The force of the general movement threw the unimpeded parts of the line, like the ands of a broken timber, around the corners of the square, and rebels so displaced were simply cat to pieces.

From this on the warfare was as disastrous to the rebels as it was tregular on their side. When the enemy's line was broken, the Artls

The strees were very quiet and lacked the animation which marked the past two days. Several tologgaring lidls, however, despite the binding snow, were much in use. The sce plance was inaugurated this evening in the presence. If an immense crowd. There were more than 2000 snowshoers on Domitton square who took part in the attack. The scene was a grand one, a discharge of rockets and fire works being kept up for about thirty minutes. After the attack the snowshoers clubs tranged across the mountain. The line was nearly a mile long. On it's return of the clubs to the city a concert was given by the snowshoers in the Queen's hall. JULION NO DEDUCTIONS The most important of all questions before the legislature is that of taxation. However, shall rat-ues be assessed for taxes? This question has been before the legislature for twenty years. Hardly a session has passed williont an effort to consider it. But there have been so many con-todasson C. But there have been so many con-flicting views and interests that it has even un-possible to effect anything.

The capital light of our system is the stabile that allows deduction of indebteit#ess. I I would be fut a simple matter to repeal this; and If if were repealed we should be rid of an abuse that makes possible the worst inequality offerr sys an of (axistion). Repeal this statute as a tax property wherever found. Then we should rave this two-fold result: First, the source of nearly all the frauds in assessment would be cut off, and second, the buildens of taxation would be distributed with far nearen approach the equal-

t nder the recent ruling of the supreme sourt of the state, all discussion about the policy of taxing credits is held "irrelevant"; and therefore the amestion whether moreowes shall or shall not be taxed may be understood as at at rest. There is no probability that the legislature will attempt to exempt from faxation the credits for which mortgages are given as security, nor indeed and description of credits, secured or ansecuted doning this branch of the discussion then as unprofitable, it next becomes, important to inquire what ought to be done on the genera It is plain that there should be a higher value ation of property in all parts of the state. Experience has shown that this cannot be secured through the county assessors. We believe 1, and be secured only through a state board of, e. salization, endowed with power to increase well as to eluna ize something like a fair valuation of property w th in the state. And reduction of the tax rate would do much to commend Oregon to the firm of those who might desire to sack homes or in vestment; here.

No doubt some who are in debt will oppose reneal of the statute that allowed adultities indebtedness. The creditor, they argue has an interest in the property, and he cought to bear dashare of the taxes. But the creditor does bear his share of the taxes. If he holds note and mortgage he must pay on them. That now is fully settled. Then let us take the next stap. and thereby forbid shirking of taxes in another direction. Allow no deduction for debts and we shall cut off that fruitful source of fraud with reproperly worth, three, four or five thousand lot are, and leaves the owner of the property nothing to pay. Even if we had a state board of equalization, there is no probability that it would raise the values to such extens as to make any assessment inequitable, though in lebledness were not deducted; for if a farrier as a farm worth $10,900 and pwes $300 on it there is little likelihood that his valuation would be placed above $5000, or half the actual worth of his farm, and his creditor would be taxed to the full amount of his $5000. But even Jit should seem to hear heavily in some, there would be simple compensation to the whole body of the people in a juster assessment and in prevention of larger inequality, to say nothing of the frands now so easily and so community It may be seriously doubted whether decitietion of indebtedness is constitutional. It is been actually in vogue during twenty rours, but for all that it may be no someter as a dinstitutional measure than it has proven to be as an economical and revenue measure. There is nothing in the constitution, either in express or implied terms, that permits it, and it opeiates constantly and inevitably to defeat the "economic and uniform taxation" that the constitution re-To repeal the statute that permits deduction of indebtedness would be a simple matter, and it would be a reinedy for a whole group of ealls. THE OBEGORIAN fully believes that if the legis lature would do it the act would meet the approval of much the larger part of the people of Tresterday it was asked by THE OREGONAL, Why, if the purpose of the Portland and Will un-ette Valley ruitrond company was an honest rue, the undertaking had been dekyed until diffiguities had arisen between the two comparises in-terested in the narrow gauge lines? Answer is made to this that the Oregon and Transcontil enbound itself to extend the road to Portland, and, as that company had secured the tight of way, which right will not expire till the 5th of March next, there was no chance to do inyhing till now. The new company claim hat they have organized to take up the sensic at the earliest moment such undertaking could be offective; and it is said that the projectors expect, if their road is built, either to buy out the three gooian company or to sell out to it. No one gonian company or to sen one to such a scheme in itself, and THE OREGONIAN would be as griad as sed, and THE OBEGONIAN would be as gize as anyone to see the road completed, and put in op-oration. Slater would be Oregon's cext Smator." Nonsense. Mr. Slater is not "pre-emi-nent," to begin with; nor it is a man who nerth, to begin with; nor is so a man who could blussel "sacrifice party for country." On the contrary, he has been an extreme partisan democrat through all his active Re. The people should not want railroad service or less money than will affor I the railroads me return upon the capital invested. In overy ussion of the proposition to regulate freights and fares, this consideration should be given its proper weight. For the railcends of Orgot the volume of traffic is probably smaller than for any similar unleage of railroads in the United States. And it will be a good many years before it will exhibit an increase comparable with the amount of traffic in the older and more populous states. Our roads have so few passengers and so little freight that it is actually impossible for so little freight that it is actually impossible for them to make as low rates as the made by roads where the volume of traffic is kurge. Any legis-lation that seriously injures the roads will like-wise injure all the interests of the state.

The San Francisco Alta (De.m.) in an article on Stanford's election, says: "We congrutalate the republicans of the legislature amonthm doung of this very proper thing. And we congrute late the while people of the state that it is done forering stanford was not these because any member objected to Mr. Ester, Mr. Sanger; or Gov. Perkins, but in obedience to an almost inf trow. Persins, but in obedience to an aliminat, interest demand of the people, for his elevation." It is a singular result of the long anti-monopoly agitation in California, and yet it is infinitely better that the head of the corporation should be taken, unbought, than that a secret afterney of it should be permitted to buy his way into the senate with railroad money.

According to the St. James 'h zette. Engfund will solve the Egyptian trouble by assuming for: a certain period the entire administration, of lower and middle Ezypt, together with all financial responsibility given the Soudan, upperand equatorial Egypt, with any port or ports on the Red sea. In much the same manner the lieu in the fable solved a problem of districuACKESSORS.

It is notorious that the regulations which the degistature of this state has prescribed, in accordance with the constructional requirement, for the just valuation for a vation of all proper the the place variable in the axadion of an proper-ty, both real and persons, except such as is specially exempted by law, have falled to ac-complish that object. In the first place a good compass that objects in the first pines a good ideal of real properly has not been assessed at all. A circumstance will which many are familiar occurred in Marini county a few years ago to bring this field is light. A turn (Samuly which had carefully prepared abstracts of titles to real property in I sat county, for ad by compoting them with the assessor's Look that a large amount of such property had been con-looked by the assessor. We are informed by Ropresentative Cox of Peauliston that the present ascessor of Unsatilia pounty has discovered that quite a large amount of real es are in that county had not becreassess at for six years; and that in Baker and Grant counting a much harver amount is overlooked by the assessors everbelieve that pieces—t valuable property are not hlways included by the assessment roll. We have lately heard that one piece of property in East Portland does not appear to have been as-ressed for three years. In the large and sparsely scattled counties eas. If the mountains and in-he southern part of the state it is practically impossible for one up n to make, an assessmen which shall include at the axable real property n his county. That, large amount of personal property is overloof at the same teason is too apparent to used even the assortion. The assessor or boughts courty, Mr. James A. Sterling, recognized this fact in a sommunication to one of the papers of that county, in which he said, after laving compacted his assessment for 38-3, that he hought thin assessment of real estate was too low by from 50 to 160 per cent. But," he said, "one assessor cannot regulate this matter." For the assessor in one county to gaine the rassessment, he said, "would be ny ust, when other assessors throughout the state a there to the old rule. The low assessment induces cap tal to be invested in land, and the results are sparse settlements, neglected farms, rotten fonces and reserted houses, while the country serving for local industries, such as worlen factories, etc." Mr. Sterling advocated as a remety for this orth the electron of district assessors, —"not pre-cinct assessors, as the precincts are not of the same size." He would, for example, make bordings county into a necessiment districts of equal size, and "electrosessors the same as justhese of the peace or constation." This, no said, would enable the assessment to be made at the same time in all parts of the county and would poballow those liable to poll and present tax to dodge the assessor, and would prevent a man from escaping assess ment by driving stock porth out of the county while the assessor is in the south end 114 miles distant. The plan recommended by Mr. Sterling would make it more likely that all property would be assessed; for the assessor would have less ground to cover and exuld therefore explore it ore thoroughly. But this plan would not result in correcting the main evil, but wond tali-er lend to distribute the cyil more widely. If we had district or prechain reseasors there would be the same fendancy or disposition to get the advantage over different parts of the county by making a lower videa ion in the several pre-circts or districts that is now manifested between the different courtles, and the result would probably be, with an increased number of assessors having in dependent nuthority, each striving to favor his own constillercy in the matter of county as we I as state taxation, that the valuation would be even more disgrecefully low and unjust than it is under our p dem.

Again, it is an a limited fact that for the proper y, both real and personid, which s assessed, a past valuation is not seemfed. There are reas-tor for this which so pot arise from the isspec-tion of the different counties to cheat each other in the payment of state takes. The office of assessor under our system is one of considerable political importance. In some countes the assessors make the office office their own political advancement, some of them making it the stepping stone to tle shrievalty or clarkship of the county, and o hers for their reelection as assessors. While o hers for their reclection as assessors. While the political opportunities of the office are so great, there is a corresponding temptation to corresponding the taxpayers by the unjust valuation of their pregerty, or by neglecting to assess all that is known to be taxable.

assess all that is known to be taxable.

Di the other hand the assessor who is consci-cutiously deposed to do his duty under the law, is subjected to strong induspose exerted by entiously disposed to do his duty under the law, is subjected to strong influences exerted by towerful taxpayers to omit to assess or to undervalue their property. It is so difficult, as to le admitted to be almost imposeible for cae must be stand against these influences, and the consequence is that many of our wealthiest men are substantially permitted to make their own assessment, and to place a valuation that suits themselves upon their property. It is needless to say that by such an arrangement a just valuation s not secured.

As a remedy for these admitted exits the assessment law might re amended by providing for the election of a board of not less than five and perhaps, not more than seven assessors in each county, instead of a county assessor in a county assessor is at present. This should be known as the "bounty board of assessors" and have in their collective capacity as a board the authority in the whole county new exercised by the county assessor. They should be authorized to distrib assessor. They should be authorized to distrib-tion the work of making the assessment and val-uation of the property of the county among themselves so as to expedite the work as much of the country as nearly as possible at the same time. But in all contested matters they should act as a board, and as a board revise the work of each other so at to secure a just valuation of property in all parts of the county. They should also be authorized and required to ap-point one of their number to sad as a member of a state board of equalization, to meet at Salem and equalize the valuation of property in the different counties. The statement of the objections to the present arrangement, of me assessor for each county, which has been made will readily sugrest the advantages of the arrangement proposed. A board of five or seven assessors is not too large to afford a shelter from personal responsibility. and at the same t me it is large enough to min-imize sufficiently the political temptations to the meriest of duty, and to resist the ambience of powerful individuals or or prorations. All the menters could not have the same from Is in the county to please, nor the same enemies to fear. We can think of no change in our eystem of tax aws so simple as the, which would tend so direcity to secure a legal assessmentar d just valuation of property. Young people do not us mily thin; and speak f marriage with the sericusness which it merits. If the topic is touched at all, it is in a jud-ular manner, and as a subject for bading ge and aumeenment. Levity carries the young into completations from which they cannot well retreat. In any other engagement which con-nects two lives as friends, partners, companions or business correspondents, caution a exercised, though the connection be one which can at any time be severed upon due notice. But the marringe the, which binds for life, and the bonds of which cannot be severed without dis-trees, notoriety and often shame an scandal, is as carelessly assumed as ... the happiness of lifetime were not made or marred by it.

"The country," says the New York Times, "isuffering from a reaction of too great and rapid extension of investments in failwar building, culminating in 1851-82. The cause of the trouble was the conversion of a very large mount of available capital into fixed capital raying no profit."

session The matter will come up next week, when at least eas maters will make set spunches upon it.

The senstornal ballot to-day was that of , extenday, excepting that Husch gained two votes other name; thinges were count, and me annotating. Husch is the only man who is regularly making a contest, all the others seeking to come in accompromise men. None care to anhagonize Hirsch, all hoping, in he emergency of his defeat, to receive decision and from him There is nothing whatever to indicate what Hirsch's real strength so or may be, but the impression prevails that it does not a just one-half of the republicans. He has not proposed a caucus or even apconference, which he would doubtless do were he sure of a majority. If there has been any effect to influence the election by use of money is an ignorant. There has been mene, I am reasonably size.

Later the democratic caucus of for two hours, and reached no positive decision, though the sparit manifested was one of a desire to compliment some other democratitian State for one or two votes while matters stand in a nebulous state. This break may be made to-morrow, and may await another caucus. It is easy for the democrate to arrange in the morating, as they are still holding well together. They certainly will not begin looking for a republican to vote to the morating and the context of the context of the context of the caucus.

THE MEDICAL PROPESSION.

McMinnville, Or. Jan 28, 1885.
To the Editor of the Orego LA
Among the bills introduced in the legislature is one for the relief of the modical fraternity. The bill, according to its preface is gotten inpaparently, to "regulate the practice of medical contracts".

sine and surgery."

Now, why this class of individuals desire to be benefited more than they already are becomes be bonefited more than they already are becomes a query. Do they aim at self-protection, or the protection of the unfortunate sick, or both? If the dectors aim to protect the people who have dealings with them, I would like to point out one parieular item that, above all others connected with this matter, should receive the attention of our wise legislators. All kinds of, wages, every article of value and of necessity has, by force of circumstances, heen reduced in value, and our doctors enjoy all these benefits. Now, it is reasonable to expect that our kind-hearted doctors, in keeping with the times, also reduce their fees. This, in all probability, is why they petation our legislature asking for protection in establishing a uniform rate of these gadueed in anterdament with the different control of the sim of our worthy doctors, then their bill ought to receive serious attention.

the reduced has not one worthy declore, then their bill ought to receive serious attention otherwise, it seems to me that the doctors are able to take care of themselves.

They have, for instance, societies in some counties of this state for the apparent purpose of improvement, but their main object and solicitude seems to be about the fees. They have their table of fees, and every physician in the county has to stand in, or they will make it incomfortably warm for him.

Brety one of them pledges his honor as a physician when he subscribes to the bill of fees, hat be will not violate any of its provisions their hat be wil, not violate any of its provisions therein. They charge so much a visit, but their fee old does not restrict them to any number of visits they can come as often as they doesn it profitable, who charge their "regular fees," thus caving the providual completely at their mercy. Should an apsophisticated wright impruder the denur stocker intended bills he is promptly seized, and the doctor's friends are on hand and willing y pose as desinterested witnesses to testify that it is customary. The testimony is usually allowed, and thus it ends, scoring one more to the experience of the payson sued. If, there is a class that has had to pay tribute to the country doctor; it is the houset farmer. The frattern ty has waxed fat at his expense. Now is the time for the granger and anti-mooppo ist legislator to put in his voice against the francing of a state medical monopoly.

Hard up for a "Policy."

New York Herald

It would seem to be a matter for the carrost consideration of the democratic leaders to find some policy at once on which they can get it er seoffs to appe, and which shall be of sufficient unportance to sabsfy the public demand for action. In the policies advanced by the trea ies now before the senate they may find such an ssue, and we do not know where else they can get if.

Bibby stebbed like too and came crying to his mother. "There, there, Rubby," she said, after she had ascertained that the injury was triding, "you are too big a boy to cry over a little thing like tlat."
